Soviets parade nuclear might

MOSCOW (UPI) — The Soviet Union rolled its nuclear might through newly reformed test squares today to mark the anniversary of the Bolshevik Revolution that established communism 57 years ago.

Defense Minister Andrei A. Grechko said the nation must reinforce its armed forces because of an arms buildup in the West.

Authorities called off a scheduled march by Moscow workers which was to have followed the military parade.

Gunmen slay Argentine major

BUENOS AIRES (UPI) — Gunmen shot and killed an Argentine army major and wounded his military bodyguard today in the first challenge to the government's tough crackdown on guerrillas and the nationwide state of siege.

Gunmen ambushed Maj. Hector Lopez as he was leaving a building in the city of San Carlos de Bariloche, northwest of Buenos Aires. Lopez was killed in the first attack that followed and one of his two military escorts was wounded.

Motion fails

NEW YORK (UPI) — A federal judge denied an attempt by taxpayer to have a "sketch" Henderson to have his income tax indictment dismissed because similar allegations against former President Nixon were not prosecuted.

However, Judge Edward Weinfeld did throw out four of the eight counts in the indictment filed last July charging the 56-year-old Henderson with evading more than $100,000 in income taxes in 1969.

Strauss defines victory grounds

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Democratic National Committee chairman Frank Strauss said today that victory would mean the "list" of issues on which his party won the 1974 elections. Republicans said it was the No. 1 reason they suffered widespread defeats.

Responding to post-election Republican explanations of their losses in the states and Congress, Strauss said the economy and a lack of Republican leadership in dealing with inflation and unemployment was the story behind Tuesday's results.

US, Spain end base talks

MADRID (UPI) — The United States and Spain today ended their first round of formal talks aimed at developing an agreement to permit the U.S. Navy and Air Force the use of Spanish bases.

American officials said the talks were purely exploratory and neither side has established a firm position.

Philippines ban sugar exports

MANILA (UPI) — The Philippine government today ordered the suspension of trading and export of sugar in the wake of a chain of six storms that destroyed sugar cane still in the fields. The Philippines is one of the world's major suppliers of sugar, whose prices on the London Terminal Market reached record highs because of scarcity.

RUH at meet

ROME (UPI) — Sen. Hubert Humphrey, D-Minn., arrived today for the World Food Conference in Rome. Humphrey, a long-time proponent of increasing world food reserves, is to serve as a congressional adviser to the U.S. delegation.

He said the world stockpile of grain is about one fourth of what it was in 1961.

Ulster bomb blast claims 3

BELFAST (UPI) — Northern Ireland erupted in violence today over the killing of a Roman Catholic trying to escape from Britain's Maze prison camp and a bomb explosion in the remote village of Stewartstown killed three British soldiers and seriously wounded a policeman, the army said.

Bolivian revolt said quelled

LA PAZ, Bolivia (UPI) — Radio stations broadcasting in Santa Cruz in southeastern Bolivia announced today that rebel forces in last week's revolt against the military government of President Hugo Banzer were in control of the city.

Four hours later, the Bolivian joint chiefs of staff declared that the government was in control of the situation. The revolt, led by dissident members of the two major political parties and small groups of a police regiment quartered in Santa Cruz, failed to gain support and was crushed, the government said.

Talks proceed

US wants Nixon tapes admitted

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Over bitter debate, the prosecution asked U.S. District Judge John J. Sirica today to admit 26 tapes of former President Richard M. Nixon's conversations. The bulk of its case into evidence in the Watergate cover-up trial.

Sirica promised to rule on the request.

Nixon lawyer Herbert J. Miller, meanwhile, indicated that the former president still might not allow him to submit testimony for the trial for at least two or three months. He said

Nixon could not come to Washington for an indefinite time.

Assistant Watergate prosecutor Richard Donovan asked Sirica to admit the 26 tapes into evidence following the testimony of five technical witnesses. The prosecution has no witness to present who participated in the conversations recorded on these tapes.

Frank L. Springer, a lawyer for defendant and former White House aide H.R. Haldeman, said the tapes should not be admitted. He based his argument on the contention that the Secret Service's operation of the taping system constituted illegal interception and that it was necessary for at least one party in each conversation to consent to being taped.

"Were it they, the Secret Service, acting as agents of the President?" Donovan asked.

"I think they thought they were," Springer said. "There has been no evidence of the President's consent to these conversations."

Then, Springer read a transcript of a September 1972 conversation in which Haldeman testified about the White House recording system on which the tapes were made. "It can't be disputed that Mr. Haldeman knew the system was being set up," Ben Veniste said.

Strickley argued that the only persons who could give consent to the taping were Nixon and the persons in the White House who had access to the tapes.

Former White House counsel John W. Dean III testified that he had no knowledge of the taping system, in which he was involved.

US farmers flay 'meal ticket' role

ROME (UPI) — Farmers from the rich crop lands of the U.S. Midwest told the global conference on food today that the United States cannot continue to pay the world's meal ticket.

The presidents of the Illinois and Iowa Farm Bureaus, the two largest food exporting states, criticized the conference called by Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger as just a lot of "fine words and brave talk."

"This conference doesn't produce one iota of food," said Harold B. Steele of the Illinois Farm Bureau.

And "while we talk about the need for increased production in both developed and developing nations, we must talk frankly about who is going to pay for it," said J. Merrill Anderson of the Iowa Farm Bureau.

The American farmer cannot continue to produce food at his expense without his income.

"We are not saying that we expect starving people to pay for food before they are fed," he said, "but we are saying that neither farmers nor American taxpayers should be expected to carry the burden alone."

Another Illinois farmer, Dale Butz, said he found few nations at the conference willing to make the sacrifices necessary to alleviate the world food crisis.

"With all the fine words and brave talk going on around here in the end it will be the American taxpayer who pays for it," Butz said.

Earlier today the United States refused to follow Canada's example and make a 10-year pledge of food for a proposed world stockpile to combat global starvation.

Cuba issued a scathing attack on the United States, saying America was using the hungry and starving in the world as pawns to force down oil prices.

Cuba's vice premier, told the 1,000 delegates from more than 100 countries that the "international financial bankruptcy of capitalist countries is the final obstacle to the development of the world."

In the final circles in the United States there is talk of negotiating the exportation of food to bend the oil-producing countries," Rodriguez said. "Cuba knows well these imperialist methods. They also tried to bring Cuba to its knees with its economic blockade."

Israel presented itself as an example in developing nations on how to build food production and offered its help to other nations.

Mr. T-N There's little sweet news about sugar these days.

Burning issue

Henry faces tough chore in Syria

DAMASCUS (UPI) — Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger arrived today in Syria on the fourth and perhaps most difficult stage of the Middle East mission. He has "back backing by Egypt, Saudi Arabia and Jordan but faced an increasingly militant stand by Damascus."

President Hafez Assad is reported to have received more than $1 billion in recent arms aid from the Soviet Union. He backed Yasser Arafat of the Palestine Liberation Organization, near King Hussein and he has threatened to end the U.N. peacekeeping rule on the Golan Heights.

Kissinger flew to Damascus from Amman where he said he told King Hussein he believed a "step-by-step" approach to a Middle East settlement was "the only possible one."

Syria has gone along with that approach in the past but whether it would in the future was not known.

Kissinger today cancelled a scheduled visit to Turkey Friday because of the deteriorating political situation there. Premier-designate Bulent Ecevit said Turkey had been unable to form a government after 53 days of trying and that any agreement on Cyprus would not be binding. He said he was giving up efforts to form a government.

Hours before Kissinger's scheduled arrival in Jerusalem—the Israeli cabinet reviewed statements made by the White House spokesman indicating a possible change in U.S. policy toward the PLO. A government statement said the cabinet also studied U.S. clarifications of the statement given to Israeli officials in Washington.

Foreign Minister Yigal Allon said the cabinet was "convinced about an apparent contradiction between the White House statement and the clarifications and that he would bring up the issue during his talks with Kissinger. Israel has feared that the United States would veer from Hussein toward the PLO.

Kissinger said in Amman he had found unexpected Arab flexibility in interpreting last week's controversial Arab summit talks in Rabat and said he was reminded of the Japanese movie "Rashomon" in which everyone in the film gives a different version of the same event. In Saudi Arabia he won support from King Faisal and a pledge from Oil Minister Omar Saghoff that Saudi Arabia would try to hold the line on oil prices and possibly even cut them slightly.

Land owners challenge SNRA regulations, law

BOISE (UPI) — A group owning private land within the Sawtooth National Recreation Area has filed a class action suit in U.S. District Court to test the constitutionality of the regulation of private lands by the government.

The suit seeks to test the SNRA regulations and the law on which the regulations are based as they pertain to private lands.

It also asks for an injunction to restrain the secretary of agriculture and superintendent of the SNRA from enforcing the act and regulations.

The class action suit was filed by Fred R. Stewart, Gooding, rancher who owns land within the SNRA. The action was filed on behalf of every owner of private land within the SNRA.

It also listed as plaintiffs John Valentine, John G. Haug, Eldon E. Pitt, James N. Moore, Grant

T. Stuart, Rocky Goodhue, and Keith Bird. The suit filed Oct. 29 names the United States government, Secretary of Agriculture Earl Butz, and Gray Reynolds, the superintendent of the SNRA, as defendants.

The plaintiffs requested the appointment of a three-judge district court to hear the action.

The suit alleges that sections of the SNRA arbitrarily deprive them of their constitutional rights. The implications of the suit appear to be far-reaching as to the future implementation of the SNRA programs.

The suit was filed on the final day of the six month period during which filing for judicial review of the SNRA regulations was allowed.

The suit is testing the entire legislative and administrative program of the SNRA as it relates to private property.

'Exploitation' decried at NFO meet in Burley

By DAVID BOCKMAN
Times-News writer

BURLEY — About 50 farmers were told here Wednesday night that farmers must organize to end exploitation of food processors, retailers and outside financial interests.

The meeting was one of 160 held throughout the nation, according to Steve Goodwin, NFO area coordinator.

He said farmers must organize to bring profits to farmers, not middle men and retailers. He said profits from meat and commodities are going to retail stores and processors, not farmers.

"This is proof the grower is being exploited," Goodwin said. He compared agricultural products to other raw material like coal. The citizens of West Virginia and Kentucky who have the coal are being exploited by outside financial forces, he said.

As long as farmers can't control the prices they don't have any control over their own commodities. That's exploitation, the speaker said.

"You owe your soul to the Production Credit Association, FTA or the banks," Goodwin said. He urged the farmers to sign NFO contracts, placing their properties into the NFO nationwide collection and delivery system. When 30 percent of the nation's farm production is in the system, farmers will be able to dictate the price they want, according to Goodwin.

The NFO's immediate goal is to get 30 percent of cattle, milk and hogs into the nationwide system, according to a pamphlet distributed at the meeting. The pamphlet says when the 30 percent figure is reached, 160 more meetings will be called the same night.

At those meetings "farmers will vote on the price they must have for their production. If those prices are not paid, there will be an automatic holding action," the pamphlet states.

Goodwin said "If we go into a holding action we're going for broke."

TF employe liaison committee formed

TWIN FALLS — An employe committee has been formed to serve as a liaison between the Twin Falls City administration and workers.

City Manager Jean Malar said the committee, recently named by the City Council last June, will meet with his office and other city officials during the preparation of the 1975 city budget during the next several months to discuss salary schedules.

All departments have been asked to submit a list of anticipated expenses, for maintenance and operation and special equipment needed. The council has asked that every department hold the line on spending in the current fiscal year.

He said departments have been asked to continue their progressive programs and to identify the services they provide to the public, in order to eliminate unnecessary expenditures in view of the current inflationary conditions.

Information from the various departments was received by the City Council and the city manager's office to formulate an overall 1975 budget proposal. The budget must be adopted by March 1975.

Malar said the City Council voted last June to suggest that employees form their own representation committee to negotiate such matters as salaries, working conditions and benefits, and to discuss with the administration the action followed or attempted by the Teamsters Union to represent city workers as a bargaining organization.

It has been determined to recognize the union and about 40 employees went on strike last week later in the month of November.

In the aftermath of the strike and resumption of work, the City Council adopted the policy to set up a non-union employee representation committee.

Members include Sgt. Don Hughes, police department; Darrell Howard, inspection department; and Pat Haver, administrative offices.

No representative was named from the fire department as the Twin Falls Fire Fighters' Union represents employees there.

Fire fighters have submitted a tentative recommendation to the city, Malar said, and will begin meeting with city officials in the near future.

A city budget will be prepared for the first of the year and must be adopted following public hearings by the end of March.

Details of Nixon taping system given

Shipments stopped

PACKAGING operations at the Tate and Lyle sugar plant in London are continuing today, despite two weeks ban by employees of shipment of sugar from the plant. Protesting workers claim that a Common Market agreement threatens 9,000 British jobs. John Lyle, chairman of the firm, says Britain may end up with 1.7 million tons less sugar than expected next year unless government policies are changed. (UPI)

Former Guards admit shooting

CLEVELAND (UPI) — Statements by two former Ohio National Guardsmen admitting they fired at Kent State University students May 4, 1970, were introduced Wednesday at the trial of the two and six other defendants. The eight former Guardsmen are charged with violating the civil rights of the students they allegedly shot during an antiwar demonstration. Four others were killed and nine others were wounded in the shootings. Guardsman James Percival gave the voluntary statement to FBI agents three days after the incident, and Lawrence Slater made his statement in testimony before a state grand jury four years ago. Slater said he "heard their" names were in the list of the time they fired. Slater said he did not hear an order to fire but "the men on my right knelt and fired. I then dropped to my knees and fired one round over their heads," according to the statement.

Soviets ask 'statehood'

MOSCOW — The Soviet Union called today for Palestinian "statehood" as part of a Middle East settlement. Previously, Moscow has backed demands for a national home and recognition of the legitimate national rights of the Palestinians. But, taking a cue from the Arab summit meeting in Rabat, Morocco, Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko, explicitly asserted: "No one can deny the Arabs of Palestine their lawful right of self-determination, including their own statehood."

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Richard M. Nixon's taping system was so sophisticated it could be activated by a voice but only when the former President himself was present, according to the testimony of an expert at the Watergate cover-up trial.

But the system was also so primitive that the reels had to be changed manually, resulting in two-to-three minute gaps in recorded conversations, another expert said.

The two were among four technical witnesses who laid the foundation in U.S. District Court, Wednesday for the eventual submission of 26 of Nixon's taped conversations as evidence at the Watergate cover-up trial.

Five of Nixon's former aides are charged with conspiracy in the trial. His former No. 2 aide, John D. Ehrlichman, says the former President's testimony is indispensable to his defense and has subpoenaed Nixon.

Herbert J. Miller, Jr., Nixon's lawyer, was expected to report to Judge John J. Sirica today on Nixon's health.

John Ljunggren, Nixon's physician, said the former President has pneumonia in a small area of the right lung and is running a slight temperature, but is making "slow but gradual improvement."

John B. Beach, chief hospital physician, said Sirica has indicated he will send an independent team of doctors to California to examine Nixon.

In his testimony Wednesday, FBI technicians, technician Randy Nelson said an electronic "locator" was used to pinpoint Nixon's location in the White House complex.

When he was in a room where microphones were located, the Oval Office, the Executive Office Building, the White House, the Lincoln Sitting Room — the recording apparatus was activated. It was activated by a voice or another sound.

Secret Service security specialist James G. Baker testified that when a reel was completed, he changed it by hand. He said that if a conversation was in progress, he waited until the tape ran just before changing it.

He acknowledged that he sometimes had two to three minutes of "conversation" by letting it run and instead of switching to another recorder.

Bill Assistant Watergate Prosecutor Richard Ben-Veniste said "none of the" subpoenaed tapes, had any gaps.

Thousands laid off in US industries

By United Press International — Thousands more workers were given pink slips in the auto and appliance industries Wednesday in the aftermath of an election that both parties said demonstrated unrest, crippling prices, and high unemployment.

At the White House, President Ford and Senate Democratic majority leader Mike Mansfield met following the sweeping Democratic gains and promised mutual cooperation to try to solve the nation's economic ills.

General Electric said it was temporarily laying off 11,200 workers at a heavy appliance plant in Louisville, Ky., and Chrysler Corp. said it was discharging indefinitely 7,000 workers at four plants.

GE blamed the layoffs on slumping sales caused by the slowdown in housing construction. Chrysler said a poor sales performance of new 1975 cars was responsible for its new round of layoffs.

There were two warnings that "thousands" would be thrown out of work at a national coal strike materials Nov. 12.

In Birmingham, Ala., a spokesman for U.S. Steel Corp. said a strike would prompt cutbacks in production and could cut as many as 10,000 persons out of work at a local steelmaking plant.

The government estimates a lengthy strike would mean 600,000 to 1 million workers nationally.

Dakota race close

FARGO, N.D. (UPI) — Only 16 votes separate Republican Sen. Milton Young and Democrat Gay William Givens in their race for Young's Senate seat.

Young, 76, a veteran of 24 years in the upper house, led Givens, 44, in the 14-day mail-in precincts counted. A third candidate, running as an independent, former State Democratic chairman

The New Hampshire state legislature in 1975 made the purple-line the state flower.

William Jungroth, pulled 6,500 votes.

Campaign officials said a final canvass and tally of absentee ballots should be completed by the weekend, but a recount was expected. It was the only undecided Senate race in the nation.

"It's anybody's ballgame," said George Sinner, Givens' campaign manager.

It appears to be too early to make a statement on the outcome of the election, especially since several mistakes in the early totals have already been noted," Young said.

The lead changed hands several times Tuesday night, but both candidates remained within a percentage point of each other through out.

Catholics join march

(c) New York Times Service — More than 2,000 Roman Catholics attended a church service Wednesday to protest against the country's restrictive constitution, as anti-government protests continued to mount with the approach of a scheduled visit here by President Ford later this month.

With helmeted riot police trying to bar the entrance to Seoul's Myongdong Cathedral, a Korean priest read a statement calling for the release of political prisoners, including a Catholic bishop, as well as scrapping the constitution.

The statement, drawn up by a group representing about half of South Korea's 600 Catholic priests, also called for "reconsideration" of Ford's visit. The priest asserted that the visit may be used by President Park Chung Hee "to support his government's cause."

Women gain in Gem vote

BOISE (UPI) — Idaho women will have their biggest vote ever in the next session of the Idaho legislature, which will be dominated again by the Republican Party.

Results of the Tuesday general election showed 10 women elected to the legislature, a gain of four from the last session.

Three more Republicans will control the legislature—a position they have held since the 1959-60 session. However, Democrats narrowed the margin to one from last session, taking 14 Senate and 20 house seats. In the last session the margin was 24-12 in the Senate and 51-19 in the House.

Six women who served in the last session, all Democrats, including Republican Sen. Edith Miller-Klein of Boise, who again will be the only woman in the upper house. Mrs. Klein was unopposed for reelection.

The other incumbents all House members—were Democrats: Dorothy H. McMan of Wallace, Norma Dohler of Moscow, and Patricia McDermott of Pocatello and Republicans Peggy Hunting of Boise and Elaine Kearnes of Idaho Falls.

Newly elected to the Senate ranks of the legislature were Republicans Beth Fitzwater, a former chief clerk of the House, Kathleen W. Kelly, Gurnsey, both Boise, and Democrats Dorothy L. Reynolds, Caldwell, and Beverly B. Bistline, a Pocatello attorney.

Several close races highlighted the Tuesday general election, which included a number of upsets.

One of the closest races was the defeat of Republican Rep. Mike McAllister of Boise, in which Democrats made their first gain in Ada County in more than 30 years.

McAllister was defeated by Dan Emery of Boise, a former legislator from Nez Perce County, by a margin of 21 votes. He and Tom Tychelen, who defeated House Majority Leader Ford Koch, became the first Democrats to win election in Ada County since 1939.

Still in the air until the official canvass of votes was the challenge in Dist. 2 where incumbent Republican Rep. C.W. Neider of Coeur d'Alene had a three-vote lead over Roy Bodine, also Coeur d'Alene.

Another close battle was between Rep. Dave Little, Emmett, a national GOP committeeman who decided this year to run for the Senate, and former Democratic House and Senate member Woodrow Bean of Coeur d'Alene. Little was only 61 votes ahead of Bean in the unofficial tally.

Extortion scheme foiled by woman

QUINCY, Mass. (UPI) — A coal-headed bank manager failed an extortion plot Wednesday by "slightly" alerting police while she was attached to a brief case she thought contained a bomb.

Three men clamped a fake bomb to Mrs. Margaret Curran's wrist and held three persons hostage at a pump-out at her home, ordered her to get money from the bank and give it to them.

The scheme failed after she flipped a business card from her car window when driving by an alert policeman on her way to the bank.

Police met her there and cut her free from a briefcase the would-be "bombers" said was filled with dynamite. It was found to contain only flares bound together.

Det. Capt. Frederick High

explained Mrs. Curran was afraid to say anything to police while she was driving to the bank because the robbers had attached a fake microphone to her car.

"She thought they could hear anything she said, so she just dropped it," he said, "out the window and held up her arm so the officer could see the hand cuffs," he said.

Police rushed to her apartment in an nearby apartment where the hostages were found unharmed.

Police said the three men, two white and one black, all in their early 30s, had escaped.

Mrs. Curran told police the men broke into her apartment with pistols drawn about 8:29 a.m. and took her husband hostage along with two neighbors, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Bloom.

Starts delayed on Gem measures

BOISE, UPI — The introduction of three referendum measures to amend the state constitution will not take effect immediately or at all at the same time.

Mary Meach, statewide coordinator for the Sunshine Initiative, said the law designed to open government to observation by the people will become effective after the annual election of 1975.

The Sunshine Initiative to require registration of lobbyists and disclosure of campaign contributions followed by a measure to allow industries to finance public relations campaigns, through the passage of a vote of 72,767 yes votes. There were 32,330 no votes.

SRH-112, the amendment to the procedures for publication of proposed constitutional amendments received 12,572 yes votes to 71,631 no.

McCollum, co-chairman for the committee that worked SRH-111, said industries wanting to take advantage of the constitutional amendments provisions to help finance pollution control equipment will have to wait for legislative action.

The amendment will allow county voters to decide if county funds should be used to help pay pollution control.

Long wait in Alaska

ANCHORAGE, Alaska, UPI — Alaska will have to wait several more days before finding out who won the powership.

Gov. William A. Egan, a Democrat, is scheduled to be sworn in early today over Republican day Hammond.

With 22 of 44 precincts reporting, Egan, 66, led Hammond, 62, by a margin of 11,000 votes.

Election officials said it would take several days to finish counting the absentee ballots.

Mansfield assures Ford of backing

WASHINGTON, UPI — President Ford has won assurance from "Montana majority" leader Mike Mansfield that the heavily Democratic new Congress will cooperate with him in the fight against inflation and recession.

"There's no such thing as a veto-proof Congress," the Montana senator said. "That is an impossibility. You have to do these things cooperatively."

The met with Ford for 45 minutes Wednesday to discuss plans for the congressional lame duck session which opens Nov. 14.

Asked whether the huge Democratic majority would undercut Ford's programs, Mansfield said, "This will not be a Congress that will attempt to denigrate the President."

The President will spend much of this week making key budget decisions before his trip to the Far East.

He is preparing a special message to Congress urging passage during the critical Congress of some 40 bills, including appropriations, energy and his economic proposals.

Mansfield said he told Ford, "We would do our best to fight inflation and recession."

Marriage means commitment

SALT LAKE CITY Living together to see if two persons are suited for marriage is "a contradiction of terms," according to a University of Utah marriage counselor.

Vern G. Smith, director of the University Marriage and Family Counseling Bureau, says "practicing marriage without a license" is relationship without commitment.

"The substance of marriage," he says, "is the commitment that a husband and wife make to work out problems together."

In the non-marital relationship, two persons can simply part if problems arise. "There is no test of the individuals if there is no commitment," says Smith, recognized national authority in marriage counseling.

"However, we do offer counseling to unmarried couples as well, but—most interestingly enough, their most common complaints are the same as married couples," Smith says.

"Some people consider marriage a threat to individual freedom," says Dr. Dean H. Hopworth, professor of Social Work and a member of the bureau's counseling staff. "In course, marriage itself and shouldn't reduce a person's individuality. The basis of marriage is having two persons learn to grow together."

and most individuals work this out to their own satisfaction. For those who don't, well, that's why we're here."

The bureau is a training arm of the Graduate School of Social Work which also provides counseling to University students, staff and faculty. Its services cover individual, premarital and marital counseling, family and divorce counseling, and its training provides preparation for meeting state standards for counseling licensure.

Abby

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: My husband has to much pride to ask his former wife to relinquish her alimony payments. We've discussed it and he is also opposed to taking the matter to court.

- Based on the following facts, do you think my husband should continue paying alimony?
1. She received all the equity in a home, paid-up car, and all the furnishings as part of the original settlement.
 2. Their children are now married, and financially independent.
 3. His ex-wife is now in her forties, is employed full time, and earns a better than average income.
 4. He has paid her alimony promptly for 14 years. I would appreciate your thinking.

SECOND WIFE

14 years still paying

DEAR SEC: You've stated that you have discussed the matter with your husband, and he's content to keep the status quo, so my thinking is not likely to influence him. Alimony has been appropriately called, "the high cost of leaving." Perhaps unconsciously your husband feels that it's not too high a price to pay for what he bought.

DEAR ABBY: For the last eight years I have been engaged to a married man. I know you've heard this story a thousand times, but he says we will be married as soon as he can get a divorce. Lately I am beginning to wonder. He is 42 and I am 29. When I met him he said he was separated from his wife. Later on he said he was trying for a divorce, but she was contesting it.

He claims he lives like a gypsy, staying with one relative after another, and sometimes with friends. I have never had a phone number where he can be reached in case of emergency. And no address either.

He owns his own business, and has given me some expensive gifts, but I want to get married and live a normal life. I used to tell my family and friends that I was too young to get married, but at 29, that's a ridiculous excuse.

How do you figure this, Abby? Am I just a slow learner? I promise to take any advice you give me. Please, help me. TIED OF WAITING

DEAR TIED: I think you've been used. Don't waste any more of your valuable time on him, dear. Quietly relocate, and make sure he doesn't have your phone number or address.

DEAR ABBY: Our daughter is a lovely, 24 year-old, well-educated woman, who is in love with a man who absolutely does not believe in marriage.

They have been living together for three years, and now they want to start a family. We are heartsick and don't know what to do.

He has no family, but we have. My parents would suffer

Wild game cooking school set Nov. 21

TWIN FALLS. In termination Gas Co. and the Times-News will co-sponsor a wild game cooking school Nov. 21 at the Holiday Inn.

The free cooking clinic will be offered in two sessions that day, one at 2 p.m. and one at 7:30 p.m. Those attending the cooking school will be given a free wild game cookbook, courtesy of International Gas Co.

According to Fran Hopper, International Gas Co. home economist, information about use of gas appliances will be offered about with demonstrations by several accomplished chefs.

Fish and game ranging from moose steak to sturgeon trout with breast or pheasant will be cooked in a variety of different and delicious ways to give area cooks some new ideas on how to use the fresh game brought home by Magic Valley hunters.

Mrs. Hopper also said an appliance display is planned to help acquaint those attending with gas appliances and their features.

Hot spiced cider and refreshments will be served to those attending the cooking schools.

Mrs. Hopper said there will be door prizes including chef's knives and some of the foods prepared on the show.

Rebekahs set fete

TWIN FALLS. Plans for the Garfieldway Scholarship pancake supper at the Idaho Hall Nov. 16 from 5 to 8 p.m. were discussed at a meeting of the Rebekah Lodge No. 27 on Tuesday.

It was announced that proceeds of the supper will be used to help another local student attending CSI.

Reports of the Idaho Rebekah Assembly in Idaho Falls were given by Mrs. Betty Dameron and Mrs. Frank Eastman.

Proclamations from the assembly president, Marie Schaffer, were read appointing Mrs. Dameron district deputy president for District Five and Mrs. Betty Eastman deputy for District Six.

Good self-defense course suggested for protection

Thursday, November 7, 1974 Times News-Twin Falls, Idaho 19

"I wouldn't advise any woman to go walking around alone at night... and she should lock her car at all times... Of course, you don't have to get paranoid about this type of thing."

A Berkeley, California, police inspector by ANDREA MEDA and
KATHLEEN THOMPSON
(Third in a Series)

"Once in a while, I think," Israeli Prime Minister Golda Meir related, "we had a deal with the fact that there had been an outbreak of assaults on women at night. One minister suggested a curfew; women should stay at home after dark."

In talking about preventing rape, it's hard to talk about restricting women. However, since it is unlikely that there will be any restriction on rape in the near future, and since women should not have to adapt to the present intolerable situation, it is necessary to discuss what women themselves can do to reduce the possibility of being raped.

There are a number of options. You could lead a hermit's existence or live in a cloister. Then the chances are fairly good that you won't be raped. Or you might take a very good self-defense course and work at becoming strong, healthy and skilled in karate and street fighting. You'd have more confidence and be able to think more clearly in any situation. You would still have to be careful, but your life wouldn't be as restricted as it is now.

And you can try to understand what rape is. You can learn how and when it is likely to happen and how your manner of relating to men can lead you into the "kind" of situation in which rape occurs.

At the same time, you can begin to take some common-sense precautions. You can also learn some elementary self-defense. Equally important, you can learn what to do if you or one of your friends is raped, so that a frightening, humiliating event is not made worse by those who try to "help" afterward.

If you are to be secure, it should surely be in your hands. Unfortunately, this is where rapes commonly take place. Sometimes the intruder comes in with the intention of raping. Sometimes the rapist is an acquaintance, with burglary as the primary motive.

The most basic and important rule is to have strong locks on all accessible doors and windows; and to use them. Still, an ordinary window lock won't secure a window that is loose in its frame. In that case, install a deadbolt lock on the side of the frame. Many people are careless about locks. Restricted in so many ways, they sometimes rebel at trivial things.

Another good idea is to have a peephole installed in the door and accustom yourself to using it. If you don't automatically check the peephole before opening the door, you're neglecting one of the best forms of protection. A safety chain, properly installed with long screws, is not as good as a peephole, but it is better than nothing.

Another often-neglected matter of common sense is keeping the shades drawn. Perhaps because our ancestors said it to us so often that we thought it was a puritanical, peeping tom is disconcerting, but a more real problem is the fact that you are always that you are alone in your home.

Outside your home, things become more complicated. In dealing with the men who say crude things or try to pick you up, it is best to respond with all the ambiguity, boredom and contempt you can muster. The most devastating thing you can do to a macho is to make him feel stupid. For example, if the person bothering you is particularly young, you could look him straight in the eye and demand, "How old are you?"

If you're confronted with an ordinary middle-aged man, call him a fat creep, not a male chauvinist pig. The latter he may delight in, the former will make him feel like a fat creep.

Don't show that you are upset or embarrassed. That is part of what he is looking for. What he is looking for is a reaction. If you're walking down a dark street, it is best to walk near the curb, away from alleys, not so much to avoid being grabbed from an alley, but to avoid being pushed into one. Source of danger: look at it. Don't look frightened. Look alert. Don't look foolishly careless—things just go wrong. You won't look paranoid. If there is a car, someone watching you, you have reason to be taking precautions. And he knows it.

Be aware of strange men and to protect you. This includes the man who accosts you on a dark street and tells you grisly tales of women just like you who were walking through the very neighborhood at this very time of night.

A similar situation arises when you turn to a strange man for help in arranging something outside normal channels. You might be a runaway, or you might be trying to arrange an abortion. But only when you are frightened and dependent on the man, and you are usually in a position to report him to the police or to make your situation known. These are serious situations. A strange man simply because he doesn't look like a rapist. What does a rapist look like?

Every urban woman is wary of public transportation. The subway, in particular, is a place of danger. And they are usually not very nervous. Silence. At your next encounter, don't pretend that hand is accidentally touching you. Stand up and yell "YOU! HAND! PEEVY! Y-O-U! I-T! DING! STING!" Won't that be exhilarating? The man will go through the hell of discovery, and maybe he won't side up to another victim in the next time he gets on the subway.

It is fairly easy to keep Strabbers out of your life. Assumptions are a much more delicate problem. The particular acquaintance who may be a problem is easy enough to identify. He's either the man who treats you much more as a chick than as a person, or the man who seems to bear some sort of grudge against you. A difficulty arises when a woman knows a man slightly enough to trust him somewhat, but not enough to know if he's to be trusted. And so you let yourself be pushed into a situation you know to be dangerous. Later you may blame yourself for being naive. A certain alarm goes off in your mind when you realize that you're not in a position that's easy to defend.

Before the man is pushing you just a little too hard. You may ignore your inner warning because you don't want to seem concerned or look foolish. But your attitude plays along with the situation, you're trapped.

The point is not to start, to stay clear of the entire matter. Once you know a man fairly well, you can tell if he represents any potential trouble. If you don't know him, stay out of any unusual situations with him.

Blockade nets pot, undersize lobsters

MIAMI (UPI) — The first sea blockade of American waters since the Civil War resulted in seizure of an ounce of marijuana and 30 undersize lobsters, informed sources said Wednesday.

The blockade of 25 miles of Florida's east coast by U.S. Navy and Coast Guard, which began at 4 p.m. Tuesday, ended on schedule at 11 a.m. Wednesday.

Sources said the blockade was aimed primarily at cutting drug smuggling into Florida, but specifically at possible interception of a vessel believed to be carrying 5,000 pounds of marijuana. The boat was believed to be a Cuban vessel, apparently headed for Miami, sources said.

The blockade was coordinated by the U.S. Coast Guard, U.S. Customs, the Border Patrol, Federal Drug Enforcement Administration and police from Florida's Dade and Broward counties.

One source reported that a fishing vessel searched was found to have aboard lobsters which were below the legal size.

Another source said a search of one vessel turned up an ounce of marijuana, "apparently someone's personal supply."

Agencies participating in the blockade insisted it was not a search, despite the manner in which it was conducted. The source said the results pointed out it was an experiment in coordination among the agencies involved.

"It is not based on seizures," it was an information gathering operation. It could be a deterrent to drug smugglers because they will not know when or where we may be at again," a spokesman for the Federal Drug Enforcement Administration said.

The blockade extended from Key West at the south end of the Florida keys to Vera Beach, Fla., about midway up the Florida peninsula on the Atlantic side. One coast guardman called it "the first blockade of American waters since the Civil War."

Late last summer the Coast Guard began patrols of the Caribbean Sea between Cuba and Haiti and the Yucatan Straits to search U.S. registry vessels thought to be carrying narcotics. Those patrols have resulted in four major marijuana seizures.

Outlook improves for wheat

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Rain and snow falling in much of the nation last week improved the outlook for what government officials hope will be a record-breaking 1975 wheat crop, the Agriculture Department said Tuesday.

The agency's weekly Weather and Crop Bulletin said the precipitation relieved dry topsoil conditions in many areas and added the growth and germination of fall-planted wheat and other grains.

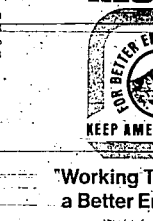

The report said that a boost in damp areas from the added moisture, but much of the Northern Plains and North West States were still very dry.

The report was issued as Secretary of State Henry Kissinger told a World Food Conference in Rome the U.S. is pushing for all-out food production in 1975 to help pay the way to more and better nations, and an attempt to rebuild world food reserves.

The Idaho farmer. You need him. He needs you.

We need Idaho's farmers

Understandably, for food. Since the average American farmer produces enough food for 52 people, they're pretty important.

In Idaho, much of our own meat n' potatoes diet is grown right here in our own backyard. Idaho is the 8th major cattle-producing state in the West. And everybody knows about World Famous Idaho Potatoes.

But one thing not everybody knows is the role agriculture plays in the state's economy. Between 40% and 60% of the value of all the goods and services produced in Idaho depends in some way on agriculture. Idaho is second only to South Dakota in the percent of total personal income that arises from farming.

As the state's major industry, it's also its major taxpayer. Agriculture accounted for more than $25 million in real estate taxes last year, and millions more in sales taxes and income taxes. In fact, when all of Idaho's farmers have a good fiscal year, the state government has a good fiscal year.

Even jobs in the state are dependent upon agriculture. About 1 in 2. A full 19% of all Idaho jobs are in either farming or food processing, and perhaps another 20 to 40 percent depend indirectly on Idaho agriculture.

Now with all that going you'd think agriculture could stand by itself.

Wrong.

The farmers and ranchers of Idaho need us, just as we need them.

They need us to buy their goods. And they have to pay the services and goods that each of us produces. Every day they purchase transportation, equipment, and raw materials. Not to mention food, clothing and housing.

They need us to understand the value of agriculture in the state. And to help keep it vital and productive. Tying it all together, it's easy to see why agriculture is Idaho's single most important business. For more information on how you need Idaho farmers and ranchers as much as they need you, write the Idaho Wheat and Bean Commissions, Suite M, Owyhee Plaza, Boise, Idaho 83702.

Joan Kennedy fined

FAIRFAX, Va. (UPI)—A Fairfax County judge fined Joan Kennedy $200 and suspended her driver's license for six months Wednesday after she pleaded guilty through an attorney to charges of driving under the influence of alcohol.

The attorney, Carlington Williams, acknowledged that tests showed the wife of Massachusetts Sen. Edward Kennedy was intoxicated when she was involved in a minor traffic accident Oct. 9 near her home in Fairfax County. Police earlier had refused to make the test results public.

Mrs. Kennedy was given the prescribed test for alcohol and the mechanism revealed she had consumed an amount in excess of the statutory minimum.

She has authorized me to enter a plea of guilty up her liability to the state. Since the Oct. 9 accident she has chosen not to drive. Mrs. Kennedy wants to accept her responsibility in the matter.

Mrs. Kennedy could have pleaded guilty to a reduced charge of reckless driving under normal procedures if she had agreed to undergo a rehabilitation program in the state's courts.

But she avoided a personal appearance scheduled for Thursday in Fairfax County Traffic Court by entering the guilty plea through Williams, who noted that no one was injured in the accident.

Mrs. Kennedy has been hospitalized three times for alcoholism and is currently in a California and Connecticut, which specialize in treating persons with drinking problems.

Gourmet shop hit by inflation

NEW ORLEANS (UPI)—Tom Long operates a French Quarter gourmet shop for customers who can afford luxuries—even during inflation.

"People come in and they say, 'Oh my God, this has gone up. But I want it, and they buy it,'" said Long, owner of Cuisine Classique on Royal Street.

"Everybody is aware about how things have gone up."

Long said there has been a drop in sales volume apparently due to inflation, but many customers still come in for their cherished pieces of Le Creuset, a lined imported cookware from France, and for other specialty items that enhance an elegant dinner.

He sells a lot of copper goods at prices which are much higher than 1972 levels.

Maine makes political history

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Independent James Longley, who made political history by winning the governorship of Maine, was the most successful of a handful of independent and third-party candidates in Tuesday's elections.

Longley, 50, assumed an even plurality over George Mitchell, the favored Democrat, with 37 percent and three-time loser James Edwin, the Republican, with 23 percent.

Longley, a 29-year-old insurance executive, promised he would run the state like a business and retain his political independence. "The hundreds which turned into thousands which turned into Legions of the Legion is the real victory," he said.

Prince Charles writes review

LONDON (UPI) — Prince Charles appeared in print Wednesday as the first member of the British royal family to turn book reviewer. Charles wrote a 65-word review for Punch, the weekly humor magazine, of a new novel by comedian Harry Secombe.

Miles Kingdon, the magazine's literary editor, said Secombe's novel "Twice Brightly," to the prince with a letter saying "reviewer Charles write 'doesn't have to be a comic masterpiece.' 'What does he mean?' Charles wondered in his printed reply. 'People have wandered 'round the Tower for less than that.' 'Charles, as good critics should,' first declared his personal interest in the comedian and operatic tenor who is high on the list of Charles' favorite comics. "I am hopelessly biased."

Tennessee led south for Demos

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The South, where Richard M. Nixon announced last for a "new American majority" of conservatives, led Watergate and inflation back to the Grand Old Party in bitter election chests. Tennessee voters led the way Tuesday, returning their governorship and control of the eight-member congressional delegation to Democrats — the latter with a black man and a woman replacing entrenched Republicans.

Democrats also picked up two congressional seats each in North Carolina and Virginia and one each in Georgia, South Carolina and Texas. And Democrats generally added to their domination of state legislatures across the South.

But it was Tennessee, perhaps more than any other state in the nation, that stung the Republicans.

"I knew there was a trend against Republicans across the country, but I hoped they wouldn't take it out on me," said young farmer White House aide Lamar Alexander, who lost to Democrat Ray Blanton in the race for GOP Gov. Winfield Dunn's seat.

Alexander was an early favorite with strong support from Republican Sen. Howard Baker, who had "fanned Blanton by 270,000 votes in a Senate race two years ago."

In conservative Memphis, voters defeated incumbent Republican Rep. Dan Rostenkowski, a strong Nixon supporter. In his place, they elected black state Rep. Harold Ford, who will become the first member of his race to serve in Washington from Tennessee since Reconstruction.

There are over 100 parks, forests and beaches in Massachusetts.

Charles confessed, "I have always been an ardent supporter of this particular Welshman."

Punch devoted a full page to the prince's summary of Secombe's novel of theater life. "Life in the theater is never dull," Charles wrote. "I know. I tried that in Cambridge."

From those amateur college acting days, Charles recalled "the excitement, the sheer knee-trembling terror of a first appearance, on stage, the pettiness of perpetual prima donnas, the desperate desire to be a success."

Secombe has an article elsewhere in the Nov. 6 issue of Punch whose title, "I have seen the fuchsia and a works," is a fair example of his punning humor.

Prince Charles said Secombe's "most entertaining of books" was no disappointment. "I was shaken with spasms of helpless mirth at frequent intervals," he wrote.

Kingdon said Charles was not Punch's normal, professional reviewer of "between 40 and 60 pounds ($24-$140)" for the review, which "was sent to me, neatly typed," from Buckingham Palace.

Secombe, flattered and grateful, said he had agreed in principle to review Charles's first novel if the need should arise.

Nixon's aides lose

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Voters have turned out at office five House Judiciary Committee Republicans who supported Richard M. Nixon throughout most of the president's impeachment proceedings.

The five, all of whom lost Tuesday to candidates they had defeated in the past, were Reps. Wiley Mayne of Iowa, David W. DeLoach of Indiana, Harold A. Fruchter of Wisconsin and Joseph Marzetti and Charles Santman of New Jersey.

They were the only losers among the 31 of the committee's 32 members who ran for reelection.

Fruchter, a freshman congressman, had been confident of victory because he supported two of the five impeachment articles voted on by the committee.

Jerome girds for playoff game against Marsh Valley

Four teams with a total of three losses and a tie against each other will square off Saturday afternoon in the southern Idaho A-2 football playoffs in the midnight.

Jerome, representing the fourth (Magle Valley) district will take on Marsh Valley at noonable and undefeated Villaville paces one of the best in the p.m. game.

That'll be it. Under Idaho interscholastic Activities association rules, the two winners will not be allowed to carry the thing in its logical conclusion although the A-2 schools petitioned for such permission. The A-2 schools suggested following the format of Utah's championship series and let the two winners return to the midnight Wednesday night to establish at least a southern Idaho champion.

"We think the request was reasonable," says Jerome Coach Ed Peterson. "All we were asking was permission to allow two A-2 schools to carry the football season another two days more than the SIC and some other schools who are playing on Monday."

"The matter of just five days between games, isn't at any consequence because by now you've done about all the teaching you can do," he concluded.

Jerome moves into the Marsh Valley game with a 9-1 record while the fifth district, crew 158-2. The Tiger-Falcons will be about as close to full strength as they can get.

Senior center Tom Cochran, a 196-pounder, is back for this last shot for Jerome, getting a medical okay after recovering from a cracked leg from the early part of the season. Dick VanDyke also is back from an early hurt and played some in the past two games.

Although Coach Peterson doesn't know an awful lot about Marsh Valley, he does know they have a fine running back in Bill Barnes.

Foreman to be mean next time

NEW YORK (UPI) — Former heavyweight champion George Foreman stopped over at John F. Kennedy Airport for 15 minutes between flights to Los Angeles, Wednesday afternoon, enough time for him to promise to be "savagely in the ring" the next time he faces Muhammad Ali.

"It just wasn't my night," the subdued Foreman said, referring to his eighth round knockout by Ali at Kinshasa, Zaire, last Wednesday morning that cost him the world heavyweight title. "The next time I fight him I'll knock him the ring."

Asked about the remark of Ali that Foreman was no more than an amateur lighting a pipe, he smiled and said: "Next time, it will be a different story."

Foreman repeated some of his previously expressed complaints about conditions for the fight, such as the ropes being loose, but he did not repeat his protest of a short count.

Following his arrival, as soon as he passed customs, Foreman was taken upstairs in an elevator to immediately board a plane for Los Angeles.

Packers to start Hadl

GREEN BAY (UPI) — Green Bay Packers coach Dan Devine, Wednesday named John Hadl to start at quarterback in Sunday's game at Milwaukee against the Chicago Bears.

The Packers two weeks ago traded five first draft choices to the Los Angeles Rams for Hadl and he saved his first action role in last week's loss to Washington. He hit on nine of 15 passes for 99 yards after Jack Concannon, the starter, was injured.

BSU's playoff hopes go on line against Cal Davis

BOISE — The Cal Davis Aggies bring their 7-0 record into Boise State's Bronco Stadium Saturday afternoon for a game which could be a determining factor in the national Division II playoffs.

Kickoff for the Bronco Homecoming game is 1:30 p.m.

Few people will forget last year's first game between the Broncos and Aggies at Davis, Boise State's All American quarterback candidate, Jim McMillan threw for over 300 yards in the second half to give the Broncos a 32-0 score. The first touchdown came with two seconds remaining in the game. Last year's victory put the Broncos into the 1973 national playoffs.

Boise State is now 7-1 on the year and 4-0 in the Big Sky after their 42-14 win Saturday over Weber State. Cal Davis came from behind to defeat Hamilton State 12-11 Saturday.

BSU was third in the nation last week while Cal Davis was 15th in the UPI poll.

"We did a pretty good job against Weber State," commented Bronco head coach Tony Knapp. "I brought that Weber State's pass defense was a very strong part of their game. They also have some offensive weapons that impressed our players and coaching staff. They seem like a much better team than their record would indicate." Knapp said of the Wildcats.

"Cal Davis will test us, as primarily on team has to date. The Aggies are very quick, aggressive, well-coached and smart winners. They have a lot of weapons on offense with big, strong, fast running backs, talented receivers and great quarterbacks."

Their defense has great speed and quickness in their defense secondary and on their front line. In addition, they have a great kicking game. In three games I have seen, no one has brought a kickoff beyond the 20-yard line against them and their punt unit is just as impressive."

Knapp added that the Broncos have very much of a team. Tech in their kicking game. We're going to have to get ready for a supreme effort because if we're not ready, we'll get beat."

The Broncos and Aggies have faced one common opponent this year in Chico State. Boise State defeated the Wildcats 41-1 in Boise while Cal Davis won 20-0 in a game played in Chico.

Said Knapp, "I don't know what happened there," Coach Peterson said after the game. "I think we got to paying too much attention to the man and not playing the ball."

Sharing top money

CO-CHAMPIONS Mark Hopkins of Rexburg, left, and Tom Sanderson, Sun Valley, congratulate each other after tying for first place in the medal play portion of the final PGA northern chapter competition of the season. The men shared the honors at 142, four strokes over par at Blue Lakes Country Club.

Berrett defeats Packard for North chapter PGA match title

Blackfoot professional Dave Berrett battered Jim Packard 7 and 6 in a big show of superb golf Wednesday in the finals of the northern chapter, PGA, fall match play tournament.

Berrett was five under par when he closed Packard out while Packard who'd hit a hot streak in winning the semi-finals Tuesday, was one over.

"Here I am playing my heart out and one over for 25 holes and I'm five down," Packard smiled afterward. "I couldn't get him to take a bogey even when he hit it in the trees."

Meanwhile, Tom Sanderson of Sun Valley and Mark Hopkins of Rexburg shared top honors in the medal play tournament held in conjunction with the final PGA competition of the year.

Sanderson was the talk of the clubhouse with his 104 game that had everyone saying he was knocking the flag down hole after hole, but he didn't make the make it puts it left him and a couple lipped out as he wound up with a 69.

Hopkins, who missed a 12-inch putt on No. 3, followed his opening day 69 with a 71 to leave the two knotted at 143.

Ken Sparks, Nampa, was third with 145, followed by Dennis Howell, Pasco, at 145; Mike Taylor, Billings, 150; Dave Killen, Twin Falls, 151; and Nate Ross, Twin Falls, and Clyde Thomsen, Twin Falls, 172.

NBA expected to make Gourdine first black commissioner aide

RICHFIELD, Ohio (UPI) — The National Basketball Association's Board of Governors was due to gather here Thursday for its fall meeting at the new home of the Cleveland Cavaliers.

The 11 members are expected to name their first black deputy commissioner at the meeting. If Simon P. Gourdine, now vice president of administration, is named to that post he would be the first black person to hold such a lofty position in professional sports.

The post has been vacant since its creation, although the association and its league provide for a deputy commissioner, according to Nick Curran, director of public relations for the NBA. The deputy commissioner takes over the job of the commissioner in the absence.

Curran said the NBA has neither confirmed nor denied the rumor that Gourdine, 34, will be elected to the position. If the league decides to confirm Gourdine, his deputy commissioner, the move will take the approval of 14 members.

Gourdine joined the NBA June 1, 1970, as one of two assistants to Commissioner Walter Kennedy. In June, 1973, he was promoted to his present position.

Gourdine, a graduate of City College in New York and Fordham law school, was a lawyer for Celanese Corp. in New York before joining the NBA.

Martin edges Virdon for UPI's AL manager of year

NEW YORK (UPI) — "Battling" Bill Martin of the Texas Rangers, who took what many called "the worst team in baseball" to within five games of the world champion Oakland Athletics in their division today, was named UPI's AL manager of the year.

Martin, 43, who has coached with an 84-25 record, edged out the Yankees' Joe Yoncoski, who took the Yankees to the AL West title, and the Red Sox's John McNamara, who took the Sox to the AL East title.

Martin's team, which finished with a 74-77 record, was the only team in the AL to win more games than it lost.

Alabama's Bryant continues to holler 'wolf' for LSU tilt

By DAVID MOFFIT, UPI Staff Writer
Birmingham (UPI) — Bear Bryant's "wolf" howl was heard again last week when the Alabama coach warned his players they would be meeting the best Mississippi State team he had ever seen, a team with a tremendous offense led by a series of quarterbacks.

Alabama beat Mississippi State 35-0 this week, the second-ranked Crimson Tide. Bryant ranked the Louisiana State 33-1 in a nationally televised 4:10 p.m. EST game at Birmingham, Ala., and although Alabama is an 18-point favorite, listen to the Bear.

"There's no need to tell you how important this game is to both teams. I have tremendous respect for LSU."

Shirtless Charlotte falls to Steamers

SHREVEPORT, La. (UPI) — The Shreveport Steamers won the game and the Charlotte Hornets literally lost their shirts.

Jim Nance scored, led a one-way run in the fourth quarter to lead Shreveport, 49-19, in a game over Charlotte in the World Football League Wednesday night.

Nance's run off right tackle at the end of a 24-yard 44-yard drive put Shreveport ahead for the first time in the second half.

Doug Winslow had scored for the Steamers on a six-yard pass from quarterback D.C. Noll.

The third-quarter and Charlie Durkee booted a 27-yard field goal.

Mike Walker helped preserve the win by recovering a Charlotte fumble on the Shreveport 21 with 32 seconds left in the game.

But Charlotte had to leave its equipment and uniforms in Shreveport after a cleaning shop and a security firm filed suits claiming the club owed payment for services received when it was the New York Stars.

Parish Sheriff's Department stood guard at the locker room door after the game to ensure that all equipment stayed inside. The room was locked for the night after the players left.

Liberty bowl land Terps
COLLEGE PARK, Md. (UPI) — The University of Maryland Terrapins have accepted an invitation to play in the Liberty Bowl at Memphis Dec. 16, university officials here Wednesday said.

Liberty Bowl association president Bertie Hunt, who personally extended the invitation to Maryland sports officials here Wednesday, said the association has not yet decided on the entry team for the game.

Cowboys go Fiesta
PHOENIX, Ariz. (UPI) — Oklahoma State Wednesday accepted an invitation to play the Western Athletic Conference championship in the fourth annual Fiesta Bowl Dec. 26 in Tempe, Ariz.

The Cowboys, 4-3 with four games left, were invited by Fiesta Bowl president Karl Eller, who called them "the best team available at the present time."

N.C. State eyes Vanderbilt
ATLANTA (UPI) — North Carolina State will be invited to the Peach Bowl and Vanderbilt can get a bid with a victory Saturday.

Elsewhere around the Southeastern Conference Saturday, Kentucky (4-4) is a two-point favorite as host Vanderbilt (5-2) and Tennessee (3-3-1) is a favored host to independent Memphis State (6-2). Ole Miss is idle.

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (UPI) — Julius "Dr. J." Erving poured in 24 points and Larry Kenon added 10 to lead the hot-shooting, hard-running New York Nets to a 126-100 ABA victory over the Spirits of St. Louis Wednesday night.

Oregon coach calls for Pac-8 tourney

EUGENE, Ore. (UPI) — Oregon basketball coach Jack Harter says "it is time for the Pacific-8 basketball conference to hold a post-season tournament for the eight member schools, with the winner earning a berth in the NCAA playoffs."

NCAA playoffs.

Harter, who came west from Pennsylvania in hopes of becoming John Wooden and the UCLA Bruins, likes the idea of a conference tournament of blowing the regular season record into the air and then playing a post-season conference tournament for the berth in the NCAA.

He mentioned the Conference Commissioner's tournament, started last season for runner-up teams in the NCAA conferences around the country.

"I'm not sure I buy the idea," Oregon State's Ralph Miller, who also left a Big Ten championship team to come west.

"I don't know how much lower that tournament will come," Harter said. "But a shouldn't create a problem for a conference tournament."

FORECAST FOR FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 8, 1974

GENERAL TENDENCIES: In a.m., work out details of plan so it will be easy to put in effect. Until night, you have some blocks in gaining aims, so use best judgment to prevent trouble. Evening then is excellent for achieving almost anything you wish.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Start early on all those fascinating duties ahead of you so they're completed by 5 p.m. Then you can be with family.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Improve your appearance. Pay indebtedness. Patch up any torn friendships so you can enjoy social life in p.m.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Improve situation at home early. Steer clear of an irate partner. Entertainment at home in p.m. Listen to suggestions of kin.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Shop; then get anything duties out of the way. Tonight you become inspired to new avenues of expression. Improve relationships.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Improve financial structure early so you feel secure by nightfall. Afternoon may bring social delays. Get advice from money wizard.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Improve your appearance in a.m. Don't irritate home folks, then you can plan a fine evening's entertainment. Plan to gain personal aims.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) You can get information quietly, confidentially, then put it to good use. Drive carefully. Today's activities color your future.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Talk over with good pal how to handle annoying situation. Don't commit yourself financially to more than you can afford.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Morning is fine to handle civic work, although you must guard against becoming confused later in day. Do charitable work in p.m.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Do something about all those ideas you have in a.m. Concentrate on the new for best results. Fun with friends in p.m.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Avoid pal who likes to gossip, waste your time. Use hunches to improve your lifestyle. Much happiness in p.m. with mate.

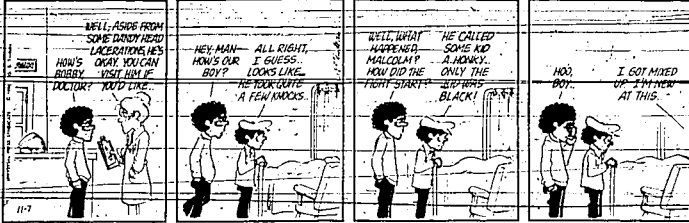

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Few more support with loved one in a.m. Reach fine agreement with associates. Avoid irate bigwigs. Enjoy cultural matters in p.m.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY... he or she will be most intelligent and must learn early to think out a plan before proceeding with the work, then the life becomes successful, since the fine mind is a very busy working angle, and the body is very active, but only needs the right direction. Give the finest education possible also, and the right spiritual training. The fields of medicine or research are excellent. "The Stars impel; they do not compel." What you make of your life is largely up to YOU!

GOLF
You can improve your golf golf considerably just by thinking about it three minutes a day without even picking up a club. Mental practice it's called. Find a quiet place, close your eyes, and rehearse the motion in your mind. Indulge in this disciplined reverie the day before you actually go out on the golf course. It's no whimsical notion, but a scientific technique to improve your game. Or so contend the experts.

HELEN TUMPSON, that noted authority on divorce and remarriage, alludes to the Biblical Delilah as Samson's wife. Tut, tut, Helen. They weren't married. Delilah was Samson's common-law barber.

Euphoria, vote lead vanish at dawn

IDAHO — EUPHORIA, New (UPI) — The euphoria, the last of the house booze and the winning vote margin vanished with the dawn leaving behind a sober Beverly Harrell just a madam again.

Harrell's return appeared to indicate that Ms. Harrell, who runs the Colonial Ranch, a brother had lost her race for the state assembly by 122 votes.

"I think I'll demand a recount," she complained. The petite, red-haired owner of the legal bordello collection in Twin Falls, looking slightly off-kilter, said a lonely desert crossroad.

In the early evening, I was leading — and the margin widened," she said.

Then all of a sudden, she seemed to know something about totals for many hours, and now today the unofficial count shows I have lost.

Something funny started happening to that vote around midnight."

The count showed Ms. Harrell lost to Dan Moody, a service station owner, 2,674 to 2,552. Both are Democrats.

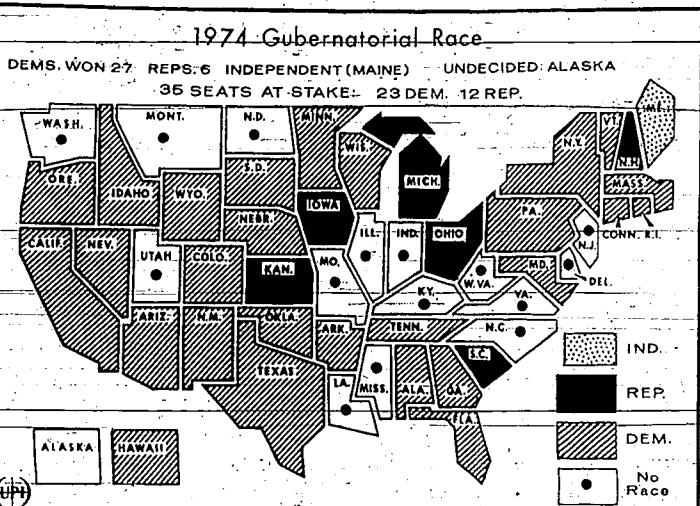

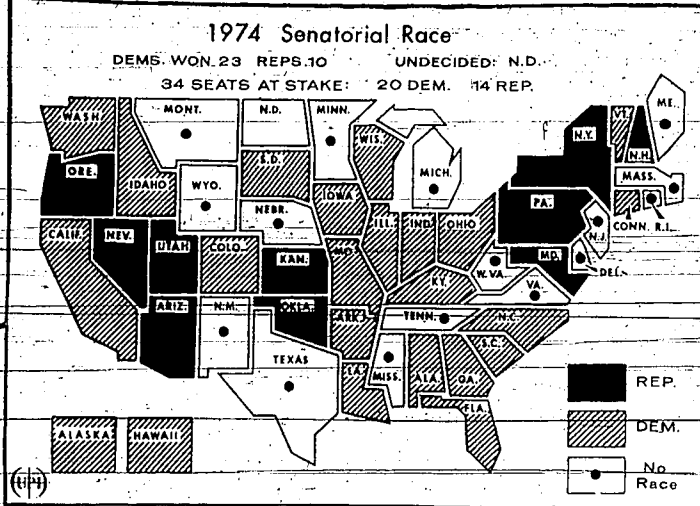

One of the problems is that the "three-count" district covers 25,000 square miles, almost all of it unincorporated, broken by occasional ranches, mines, tiny towns and federal installations.

Voters use paper ballots, and the counting goes slowly.

When it appeared that Ms. Harrell had become the first madam to win election to state office in Nevada — where prostitution is legal on a local option basis — she gave her "girls" the night off and served free champagne to the crowd of well-wishers that jammed the house.

Ms. Harrell said she plans to fight the vote count, but in the meantime "it looks like people may still be calling me madam."

Over 5.3 million boys and girls, between the ages of 4 and 19, are participants in 441 programs and activities. Supporting their efforts are half a million volunteer, adult and teen leaders, the men and women of the Cooperative Extension Service, the National 4-H Service Committee, National 4-H Foundation and numerous private sector donors.

CHICAGO (UPI) — Treasury Secretary William Simon predicts Democratic gains in Congress will not change the basic economic policies of the Ford administration.

"I can take all the pressure anyone can give before I would give in to wage and price controls," Simon told a news conference Wednesday. "I will not give in to wage and price controls."

He predicted the Ford administration would stand fast on its basic economic proposals, while continuing with Congress on economic legislation.

He termed inflation the "real enemy" of the nation and said the proposed 5-per cent tax surcharge would be the best way to pay for programs designed to halt inflation.

"If we vote for expensive tax programs, we must pay for them, whether in regular taxes or in the form of the surcharge," he said.

"If necessary, we will do it all because of inflationary factors," Simon said, "including the increase in food prices because of crop-damaging weather, the quadrupling of oil prices in the past year and the economic boom among industrialized nations."
